

PO Box 9722 • Asheville, NC 28815 • 828-299-7001 • Fax 828-299-7008

Support our organization and do business with a member.

A Letter From the Association President

As president of the Asheville Home Builders Association, I present to you a valuable and useful tool for builders and to people working in building-related businesses, and to the public seeking their services. The Asheville Home Builders Association Member Directory is a current, compiled directory of both builder members and associate members. We also include frequently used phone numbers related to our building industry.

The Asheville Home Builders Association encourages strong relationships between builders and associates and believes that this contributes to the improved success for everyone's business. This partnership of individuals and companies make this organization one of the largest in North Carolina. We are very proud of the way our membership has grown through the use of our motto "members doing business with members" and look forward to our membership growing even larger than the current base of over 500 member companies.

This year begins with our Association office in a new member-built facility with additional space available for rent for compatible businesses. Our new web site, <http://www.ashevillehba.com> provides up-to-the-minute information on our members and the Association. Membership is at an all-time high, and a recent strategic planning workshop has given us impetus for further success in 2003. We encourage you to use this directory in your business and to do business with our members. Thank you for your support of our Association.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Steve Royster'.

Steve Royster

President, Asheville Home Builders Association