

2007 Parade of Homes Associate Member Discount Program

The new year has the Asheville Home Builders Association off and running to offer our members the best opportunities to make their businesses grow. Your participation in this year's Parade of Homes will not only introduce your company and your products or services to new builders, it will cement strong ties with those builders who are already on-going customers.

Please fill out this form so we can advertise your company and the discount you would like offer to builders who will participate in the 2007 Parade of Homes. The sooner we receive your discount—the sooner we can notify our Builder Members.

Watch your business reap the benefits of being involved in the 2007 Parade of Homes. The Asheville Home Builders Association continues to stand by our motto of "Do Business with a Member."
