

Professional Women in Building

The Asheville Professional Women in Building Council fosters professional development among women and men within the building industry. The main focus of Asheville Professional Women in Building is to provide networking, educational and community outreach opportunities, along with nurturing professional development within the industry. We strive to support, promote and enrich both the personal and professional lives of our members, as well as work to promote a positive image of the building industry within the WNC community.

Benefits of Membership:

Networking: Develop valuable professional and rewarding personal relationships with professionals from across WNC who are familiar with and work within the building industry.

Community Service: One of the strongest components of our Professional Women in Building is the annual scholarships given to those pursuing a degree in a construction field. Members also participate in a variety of projects such as Insulate! and other community outreach programs.

Education: Professional development is a top priority for our group. We offer webinars, Social Media Classes and more throughout the year. Membership includes one free education pass for attending an official PWB education offering during the year.

Promotional Opportunities: Sponsor a monthly luncheon meeting: minimal cost for maximum exposure! Or take advantage of free opportunities to promote yourself and/or your business through committee work and inclusion in our newsletter promotions.

Professional & Personal Development: Enhance your business and skills with top notch professional education and networking offered to members! Grow your network through being involved on a committee and achieve your personal goals within the framework of a volunteer organization.

Leadership Development: Strengthen your leadership skills through networking, public speaking training and committee involvement.

Discounts on Products and Services: Members receive discounts for participating in educational events and incentives for promoting and volunteering at our fundraising events. Ask a member for more details!

Join Us! Our monthly meetings provide networking opportunities and allow for personal growth with other professionals within the industry! There is place for everyone in creating success within the Professional Women in Building organization, your company and the building industry! We are diverse in our purpose for membership and in our committee choices. We look forward to growing with you!

We currently have openings in the following committees: Fundraising, Membership, Community Involvement/Scholarship, and Education. Please ask a member for more details!
